EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Dogzie Town in one page

01 · WHAT

A luxury open-world action game

GTA-style freedom, Burnout-style chases and Payday-style heists, in a town of dogs inspired by Dubai and Saint-Martin. It is the PlayStation game of the Dogzie Universe, an original IP that is 100 % owned by its creator.

02 · WHY NOW

The world is built. Production is next.

Characters, buildings, expansions, an original soundtrack and a concept trailer already exist, built for about $500 in cash plus the creator's own time. The game is at the concept stage, so this is the moment when a partner's input can still shape it.

03 · THE ASK

An exploratory conversation

About publishing, partnership or developer support for Phase 2, the PlayStation build. Funding target: $500K–$550K CAD. The structure is open: we want to understand Sony's view first.

Honest status: concept / pre-production. No playable build exists yet. The optional blockchain layer is outside the console experience: its contracts are written, but not deployed and not audited.

THE HOOK

GTA × Burnout × Payday

...in a luxury dog universe.

I An open world you can own

Steal cars, get tattoos, go shopping, buy a condo, and grow from a nobody into a business owner.

II Chases you win with style

Shake off the police with signature moves. Every signature move earns bonus points.

III Heists where every faction plays a part

Banks, jewelry stores and high-society galas, where thieves, guards and investigators meet in the same mission.

Comparisons describe the gameplay mix only. Dogzie Town has no affiliation with Grand Theft Auto, Burnout, Payday or their owners. All names are trademarks of their respective owners.

WORLD & CHARACTERS

A TOWN OF 143 CHARACTERS, BUILT FOR LUXURY

Sleek towers, turquoise marinas, yachts and private jets, all inspired by Dubai and Saint-Martin. Every resident has a story, a job, a personality and a camp. They come from 7 playable collections, including the Jet Set, the Criminals and the Outcasts.

143 characters

46 buildings designed for Dogzie Town

5 expansions

7 playable collections

9 factions

Existing character sheets and key art from the Dogzie Universe. Some art carries the earlier spelling “Dogzy”. These are concept assets, not in-game screenshots.

FACTIONS

Two camps. Nine factions. Pick a side.

THE GOOD SIDE · 4 FACTIONS

- Jetset · the jet set
- Vedettes · stars
- Justiciers · vigilantes
- Geeks · geeks

THE BAD SIDE · 5 FACTIONS

- Criminels · criminals
- Excentriques · eccentrics
- Marginaux · outsiders
- Adoléchien · drama teens
- Mordus d'adrénaline · thrill-seekers

Core rule · one of each

Every mission includes one character from each faction. They confront each other, cooperate or cross paths in opposing or complementary roles.

Duel mode · 2 players

Local or online, players are always in opposite camps. It is a built-in rivalry that works on the couch and online.

Faction names are the creator's original French working names. Missions and factions are design direction, to be refined in production.

GAMEPLAY PILLARS

Four ways to play the town

01 · OPEN WORLD

Live large

Steal cars, get tattoos, go shopping and buy a condo. Shops, businesses and places to own across the town's 46 buildings.

In the spirit of: GTA

02 · CHASES

Signature moves

Escape the police with style: send the cruiser into a field or force it off the road. Every signature move earns bonus points.

In the spirit of: Burnout

03 · HEISTS

Big scores

Planned set pieces: bank robberies, jewelry store heists and a diamond job at a high-society party.

In the spirit of: Payday

04 · LUXURY

Sea & sky

Defend yachts from sea pirates, fly private jets and compete in plane tournaments, across a Dubai and Saint-Martin skyline.

Dogzie's signature

SIGNATURE MISSIONS

One mission, many sides of the story

CROSS-FACTION

The gala necklace

At a high-society party, a Criminel tries to steal the diamond necklace guarded by the Jetset, while the Justiciers and the police investigate. Three objectives in one room.

CAMP MISSIONS

Bad side · Adoléchien: disrupt a clairon sale, raid a weed plantation, rob corner stores, go shoplifting.

Good side · Jetset: protect gold shipments and guard a big diamond package at a high-society party.

Luxury set pieces: sea pirates attacking yachts, private-jet runs and plane tournaments.

CROSS-ROLE STORY — The singer's show

One event, four playable roles

The obsessed geek
Sneaks into the dressing room for souvenirs. His goal is to get caught.

The singer
Delivers her show and catches the geek.

The security agent
Protects the singer throughout the event.

The police investigator
Finds the evidence to put a stop to it.

Mission examples are design direction. Mature themes (theft, heists, cannabis) would be tuned with a partner to reach the target ESRB/PEGI rating.

PROGRESSION & ECONOMY

From nobody to owner, earned through play

STEP 1

Base character

Everyone starts here. No one can buy an already evolved character.

STEP 2

10 accessories

Collect the 10 accessories of your job to evolve, for example from cook to head chef.

STEP 3

Owner / franchise

The first player to finish owns the business. Players who finish later can buy a franchise.

20 jobs already designed

Chefzy the cook becomes the restaurant owner, Mechzy runs the garage, Bankzy owns the bank, Hostzy owns the hotel... Each job sheet comes with its building, its 10 accessories and its personality.

Fair by design: progress is earned, not bought. There is no pay-to-win.

Chefzy · Doczy · Salonzy · Beautzy · Mechzy · Hostzy · Shopzy · Bankzy · Lawzy · Securzy · Buildzy · Electrozy · Plumbzy · Waitzy · Barzy · Sportzy · Magiczy · Wheelzy · Gentlezy · Cashzy

The Dogzy layer: optional, outside the console

On PlayStation, balances stay on the game server and no wallet is ever needed. In the wider universe, players could choose to withdraw tokens to a wallet with a one-time code and a bridge. We propose to build that layer on Soneium, Sony's own blockchain, subject to PlayStation platform policy. On console it can be adapted, or removed entirely.

Contracts written, not deployed, not audited. No partnership, approval or integration with Soneium or Sony exists.

WHY PLAYSTATION · WHY SONY

Built for the couch. Ready to grow.

Audience fit

Open-world, racing and heist fans are a core console audience. Duel mode is made for two players on the couch or online.

Family-friendly, but edgy

Stylised dogs, humour and glamour, with a bit of mischief. It is crime-caper fun, not gritty violence.

Transmedia-ready IP

A cast and world deep enough for a series, an animated film and music. This is potential, with no deals in place, and it fits Sony's multi-media reach.

Sony ecosystem

The optional digital layer is proposed on Soneium, the Ethereum layer-2 by Sony Block Solutions Labs (mainnet since January 2025).

Sound & vision exist

An original soundtrack, including a theme song for each collection (made on Suno Pro, rights held by the creator, dated YouTube releases as proof), and a 2-minute concept trailer made of key art set to music. It is not gameplay footage.

Already exists

READY

- 143 characters, 46 buildings designed for Dogzie Town, 5 expansions, 7 playable collections
- 9 factions and mission concepts
- 20 job sheets (base → 10 accessories → owner)
- Original soundtrack and a concept trailer
- Brand identity and website
- Code: blockchain contracts and bridge logic written (not deployed, not audited)

Still needed

NEEDED

- A console development team or co-dev studio
- A game design document and a vertical slice (no playable build yet)
- The game server and progression API (in progress)
- PlayStation tooling, technical requirements, certification and age rating
- QA, localisation (EN/FR), launch
- A security audit before any deployment of the optional layer

PHASE 1 COST

in total, for subscriptions only (Cloud, Replit, Suno). Everything else was built by the creator herself. Her time is real sweat equity.

The creator, Valkyrie: an international artist, with 23 exhibitions and the top 10 % most-viewed artists on Singulart.*

* Gallery figures provided by the creator. The Valkyrie gallery is a companion to the IP and is not part of the console ask.

ROADMAP & THE ASK

Phase 2: bring Dogzie Town to PlayStation

PHASE 1 · DONE
Universe, art, music, trailer and contracts written, for ~$500

M1 · DESIGN LOCK
Core loop, MVP scope, game design document

M2 · VERTICAL SLICE
A playable district: chase, heist, one camp pair

M3 · PRODUCTION
Content, server, art and audio, EN/FR

M4 · PLATFORM
QA, certification, age rating

M5 · LAUNCH
Release, expansions and live updates

PHASE 2 RAISE

$500K–$550K CAD

Set to cover the PlayStation production fully. It is a planning target, not a price asked of any one partner.

Use of funds

- Co-dev studio production (the main use)
- Console development, tooling, QA, certification
- Game server and progression API
- Age rating, localisation, launch
- Optional layer: tests and audit (only if kept)

The exact allocation will be set with the co-dev studio's quotes.

Partnership we seek

Publishing · Partnership / co-funding · Developer support · Exploratory call

A public path we plan to follow: registering on PlayStation Partners (partners.playstation.net) with a short project plan. Sony states that newly registered partners whose concept is accepted may request a complimentary dev kit and test kit. We would use this route as a possible path, not as a commitment from Sony.

Marketing plan: 5 influencers at 1 % lifetime royalties each (5 % in total). None have been chosen or signed yet. The milestones are indicative, and timing will be set with a partner.

REVENUE PROJECTIONS · ILLUSTRATIVE

What the universe could earn (CAD)

	PRUDENT	NORMAL	BREAKOUT
Year 1	$128K net $93K	$571K net $402K	$2.33M net $1.63M
3-year cumulative	$494K net $353K	$2.63M net $1.85M	$13.93M net $9.85M
5-year cumulative	$948K net $678K	$5.83M net $4.14M	$35.12M net $25.25M
Copies sold, Year 1	3,000	15,000	60,000
Copies sold, 5 years	23,000	142,000	760,000

Large figures = gross. Net = after the PlayStation share (30 %), gallery commissions, merchandise cost and influencer royalties (5 %). Net is before salaries, development, servers and taxes, so it is not profit.

CONSOLE CARRIES THE PLAN

of Year 1 gross comes from the console in the Normal scenario. The plan does not rely on any rise in token value.

Key assumptions: average realised game price of $24.99 (list price ~$29.99), 5 expansions at $9.99, a 30 % PlayStation share. Prices are the same in all scenarios; only volumes change. Accessories are modelled outside the PlayStation Store. If they were sold through it, the 30 % share would apply.

Disclaimer: illustrative scenarios, not a forecast, guarantee or audit. Year 1 = the first 12 months after a commercial launch, which requires Sony's approval. The $500–550K Phase 2 raise is investment, not revenue, and is excluded from every total. The blockchain revenue lines require deployment, an independent audit, legal validation and PlayStation policy compliance. Source: Dogzie Universe revenue projections (PDF + XLSX, October 2026).

EVALUATION AT A GLANCE

The honest scorecard

CRITERION	STATUS	WHERE IT STANDS
Concept originality	READY	A defined mix of open world, chases and heists in a luxury dog universe, with cross-faction and cross-role missions
IP depth / transmedia	READY	143 characters · 46 buildings designed for Dogzie Town · 5 expansions · 7 playable collections · 9 factions. Series, film and music remain potential only
Existing assets	READY	Key art, character and job sheets, original soundtrack, a concept trailer (not gameplay), website
Market fit	IN PROGRESS	Console-friendly genres and a stylised tone. No player testing or audience data yet
Platform fit	IN PROGRESS	Designed console-first, and no wallet is needed to play. Requires PlayStation Partners registration and Sony approval
Monetization	IN PROGRESS	Premium game + 5 expansions + duel pass. Illustrative model; the optional digital layer is removable
Risks	IN PROGRESS	Identified, each with a mitigation (next page). The main ones are team, scope and platform policy
Team / studio	NEEDED	A solo founder today. A co-dev studio is to be selected
Readiness stage	NEEDED	Concept / pre-production. No playable build. The next proof point is a vertical slice

3 READY · 4 IN PROGRESS · 2 NEEDED

Bottom line: a deep, original IP with real assets. The gap is production: a team, then a vertical slice.

RISKS & MITIGATIONS

What could go wrong, and our plan

RISK	WHY IT MATTERS	MITIGATION
No team or studio yet	A solo creator cannot ship a console game alone	Outsource production to an experienced co-dev studio. The creator keeps the creative direction and IP
Crypto / NFT under platform rules	PlayStation has its own rules on blockchain features	The layer is optional and outside the console. It can be adapted or removed, and the game is fully playable without it
Scope	143 characters and 46 buildings is a large world for a first game	A phased MVP: one district, the core loop, chases, a heist, one camp pair. Expansions come later
Budget	$500–550K CAD is a lean target for console production	Validate it with studio quotes, adjust the MVP to fit, and stay open to co-funding with a partner
Content rating	Theft, heists and cannabis themes affect the ESRB/PEGI rating	A cartoon tone and no gore. Mission themes will be tuned with a partner for the target rating
Security of the digital layer	The contracts are not deployed and not audited	No deployment without an independent audit and Sony's agreement
Music & art rights	The soundtrack was made with Suno, and some art uses the earlier spelling	All songs, theme songs included, made on Suno Pro: rights held by the creator, dated on YouTube. Branding to be harmonised

PROPOSED NEXT STEPS

Let's talk

1. Intro call (30 min): the universe, the vision and Sony's first questions.
2. Deeper material under NDA: character, building and job sheets, the soundtrack and the trailer.
3. Agree on what Sony needs to see: for example, a vertical slice and the scope of the MVP.
4. On our side: PlayStation Partners registration, and co-dev studio quotes to validate the budget.

RÉSUMÉ EXÉCUTIF · FRANÇAIS

Dogzie Town en une page

Dogzie Town est le jeu console PlayStation du Dogzie Universe, une propriété intellectuelle originale créée par Valkyrie (Sania), au Québec. C'est un monde ouvert de luxe inspiré de Dubaï et de Saint-Martin, qui mélange l'esprit GTA, Burnout et Payday : voitures volées, tatouages, condo, poursuites avec des coups signature qui rapportent des points bonus, et braquages de banques et de bijouteries.

Neuf factions en deux camps se croisent dans chaque mission : le vol du collier de diamants au gala, le spectacle de la chanteuse… La progression va du personnage de base aux 10 accessoires, puis au statut de propriétaire ou de franchisé. Il n'y a pas de pay-to-win.

Couche numérique Dogzy : elle est optionnelle et hors de l'expérience console. Nous proposons de la bâtir sur Soneium, la blockchain de Sony (couche 2 d'Ethereum de Sony Block Solutions Labs), sous réserve des règles PlayStation. Aucun partenariat ni aucune approbation n'existe. Les contrats sont rédigés, mais ni déployés ni audités. Le jeu console est entièrement jouable sans cette couche.

Ce que nous demandons à Sony

Une conversation exploratoire sur l'édition, un partenariat ou un soutien aux développeurs pour la Phase 2 : la production PlayStation, avec un objectif de financement de 500 000 à 550 000 $ CA. La Phase 1 (l'univers, l'art, la musique, la bande-annonce et le code) a coûté environ 500 $ en abonnements.

Statut honnête : concept et préproduction. Aucune version jouable n'existe encore. La bande-annonce est un montage d'images, pas du gameplay. Les projections sont illustratives et non garanties. Une sortie sur PlayStation exige l'approbation de Sony.
